WHO: PhD students and junior researchers (Participation limited to 7 teams of 3 participants)

WHY: to gain knowledge and develop skills in technology transfer into the market. It is a hands-on training course to transfer the technology you are working on into a business idea.

HOW: Groups of maximum 3 participants can register with one idea. If you want to participate but do not have a technology and/or team, you can register and will be assigned to a technology/team later.

WHAT TECHNOLOGIES: We encourage the senior researchers that "own" the technology to participate as technological mentor. This mentorship will be essential for the validation of the business idea. If you want to register your technology without a team associated to it, you can also do it and a team (if available) will be assigned to the technology."
